

Ottawa's Lowertown in the time of expropriation: what were the most serious consequences for Francophones?

Worksheet 1 Analyzing consequences

.Using the table below, record the direct and indirect consequences of urban renewal in Lowertown.

Analysis of consequences	Responses
Direct consequences: According to the map of expropriated Lowertown properties (Murray and Murray Plan), which residents are directly affected by the modernization of the neighborhood? What are the differences between this map and the estimates presented by the Le Droit newspaper in 1966? According to the map, what effect does the modernization have on the territory of Lowertown?
Indirect consequences: Using the graph about the expropriation wave, what are the long-term repercussions of the redevelopment of Lowertown? What are the consequences of modernization on the inhabitants of the neighbourhood, as illustrated by the "Boarded up houses"? Comparing the King Edward Street photos before and after redevelopment, what are the impacts on the mobility and life of Francophones?	